How do businesses and organisations like yours deal with their occupational health and safety problems?

Where do they go for help and information?

Where do they meet informally with occupational health and safety professionals?

Bradford Area Occupational Health and Safety Forum

What is the Forum?

A unique partnership of Public, Private, Voluntary and Trade Union Organisations in the Bradford District interested in working together to improve the health, safety and well-being of people at work.

What does it do?

- Acts as a network for sharing information, ideas and expertise
- Provides information on health and safety issues to organisations and their workforces
- Organises local events on occupational health and safety
- Raises the profile of occupational health and safety across the Bradford District
- Develops joint initiatives around issues of common concern to promote health and safety at work, particularly those that cannot be addressed by individual agencies alone
- Promotes the importance of providing occupational health services in workplaces
- Lobbies for appropriate legislation relating to health and safety at work

Who are the members of the Forum?
